RE Jane Gibson

Today I talked with John Stoothoff. He formerly owned the farm at the corner of Hamilton Road and DeRussey's Lane, but sold it eight years ago and since then has not lived out that way. At present he is residing at 112 Third Avenue, Highland Park.

Stoothoff claims that he knows Jane Gibson and sold her various things prior to the time he sold his farm and that as far as he can say he always found her straight in her dealings although there was a general impression that she would bear watching.

While he is of the opinion that she is wrong in her accusations in this case, he claims he has never discussed her credibility with anyone, nor heard her spoken about in this respect.

In view of the fact that he has not lived out that way for eight years, and is not in touch with the people out that way, I feel that he would be of no use as a reputation witness.

Respectfully yours,

David Thompson
